

Prop 15 will reclaim $12 billion every year for California schools, community colleges, and essential local services like housing and healthcare – and every county will benefit. COVID-19 has shown how decades of disinvestment in public health and social services has deepened inequities and worsened the crisis. Let's reclaim these resources, and provide the support our local communities need to thrive.

In San Bernardino County alone we can restore $620 million each year, with $307 million for public education and $312 million for community services. Imagine all we can invest in community services each year:

HOUSING:

Build 400 units of affordable housing and provide COVID-19 emergency rental assistance to 800 more people.

MENTAL HEALTH:

Hire 50 more mental health or substance abuse counselors and serve 2,500 more people through mobile crisis response teams.

HOMELESSNESS:

Provide permanent supportive housing to 1,000 more people.

HEALTHCARE:

Cover the costs for 3,000 more people to receive healthcare at community clinics.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT:

Provide free childcare for 1,500 COVID-essential workers--including workers in grocery stores, healthcare, agriculture, and other sectors. Cover the cost of 2,500 more people to participate in job apprenticeship programs.

YES on PROP 15!

Prop 15 was put on the ballot by a record-breaking 1.7 million Californians who believe that wealthy corporations need to pay their fair share.
